BIBLIOGRAPHY

In addition to the text used for this course, it may help the students to expand their interest and knowledge in the subject by reading material in other publications and texts. Recommended reading includes:

The Wall Street Journal

Forbes

San Francisco Business Times

Business Week

Integrated Marketing Communications, Belch & Belch; Irwin. 2002

Services Marketing, Lovelock; Prentice Hall, Inc. 1991. Second Edition.

The Power of Logos, Haig, John Wiley & Sons; 1997

EXPECTATIONS

The textbook does a good job of explaining the basic marketing principles and concepts as well as introducing you to the vocabulary of the business. I will devote class time to discussing these concepts and how they apply to the marketing operations of a company. We will discuss the application of marketing theory to real life situations drawn from my professional experience. I want you to share your own experiences – or if you have limited work experience, to ask questions. We will have video tapes and class exercises.

My expectation is that you will prepare yourself for each class session by studying the material assigned, that you will think about the application of what you are studying to the job of a marketing manager, and that you will discuss your thoughts during class.

Americans consider time differently than people from other countries. Americans actually think of time as a tangible asset. We say “Don’t waste time.” We talk about saving time.

Because of this it is considered rude and is unacceptable to be late for a business meeting. The same applies to classes. We will conduct this class with the same respect for time. If you are late for class, wait until the break to enter.

Cell phone use is not permitted in the classroom. Use of a computer in the classroom requires the explicit permission of the instructor.

Notes, electronic dictionaries, or any method of obtaining information is not permitted during exams.

EVALUATION

Grades will be based on the quality of reports, project, examination, and classroom participation. Attendance is important. Classroom participation is not possible if you are not in class. Participation is defined as actively adding to a discussion by offering insights or different approaches to marketing problems/solutions that demonstrate a solid working knowledge of the concepts and principles of marketing. Memorizing definitions is not sufficient. Grades will be based on:

- Exams 200 points
 - Project assignments 40 points
 - Classroom attendance/participation 60 points
 - Individual assignments 15 points
