Course Description: An analysis of individual, interpersonal, and group behavior within organizations and the influence of human, cultural, technological, structural, and environmental factors. Examined are practices of management, such as designing jobs and organizational structures, evaluating and rewarding performance, organizational and employee development, and other management processes. These techniques include high performance organizations, management by objectives, total quality management, and the like; it uses varied approaches to leadership, conflict management, change, and adaptation to the environment. (3 units)

Prerequisites: None

Co-requisites: None

Instructional Materials and References: Robbins, Stephen P., and Timothy A. Judge, “Organizational Behavior,” 16th ed. (Upper Saddle River, New Jersey: Pearson Education, Inc., 2013). ISBN-13: 9780133507645 (Be mindful of chapter numbering and subject matter differences among editions)

Topical Outline: The course provides balanced coverage of all key concepts of Organizational Behavior. This includes not only traditional topics such as personality, motivation, and leadership, but also cutting-edge issues such as emotions, trust, work-life balance, workplace spirituality, knowledge management, and e-organizations. The topics of globalization and cross-cultural differences, diversity, and ethics are woven into the course.

Instructional Methods: Lectures supported by PowerPoint slides, discussion groups, class handouts and accompanying exercises, written and/or video case studies, Internet based exercises and/or quizzes, walking field trips to local businesses and/or government agencies, and guest lectures when appropriate.

Assignments: Various chapter behavioral objectives and readings in the textbook, related Internet exercises, written and/or video cases and selected case questions to be answered will be assigned during the course. Particular attention should be directed to chapter behavioral objectives and summaries containing implications for managers since they help to organize the content of the chapters and to identify the most important information to be included in the course examinations. Completion of chapter readings prior to class dates is essential not only to understanding the subject matter but also to enhancing the quality of participation in class.

Course Standards: Students will be responsible to attend all lectures and complete the textbook chapter readings prior to lectures, mid-term examination, final examination, assignments including written and/or video case study analyses, class exercises and/or quizzes, participate in class discussions, and field trips when applicable.

Integrity and Quality of Scholarship: Integrity of scholarship must be maintained at all times. Plagiarism (copying directly from an author's work) is not permitted. All written work is to be word-processed unless otherwise indicated and should reflect college-level ability in English structure, grammar, spelling, and sophistication of analysis.

Methods of Evaluating Students:

Attendance: Regular attendance at classes is essential. Excessive absences may result in lowering of the final course grade or even dismissal from class resulting in a loss of credit. Absences due to illness may be excused provided the absence excuses are accompanied by a licensed medical practitioner's signed note or letter attesting to the period of illness. Students are responsible for making up the class work missed.

Examinations: The mid-term exam and the final exam will each consist of short answer and/or essay questions evaluating the student's understanding of the basic concepts, terms, processes, and issues covered in the course.

Case Studies: Students may be required to submit assigned case studies. Your case study solutions should cover the case scenarios in some detail, sources in addition to the class text should be used such as outside readings, computer searches, etc., the bibliographies, as well as facts and figures, must be documented by proper annotation and referencing, and you should summarize the outcome or major concluding points of the case studies applying relevant concepts, theories, systems, strategies, and practical applications found in your textbook. You may submit attachments with your case studies, graphs, charts, etc., but sources must be properly documented.

Supplemental Materials: Handouts and/or exercises may be distributed during the class on OB related topics as deemed appropriate by the instructor.

Modification of the Syllabus: The instructor reserves the right to modify this syllabus at any time during the course. An announcement of any changes will be made in class.

NB (Note Well): Read all assigned chapters in preparation for examinations without regard to lectures which may supplement rather than follow text.

Electronic Devices: Cell phone ringers must be turned off while in the classroom and placed in a vibrating mode. If you must answer a call, please do so in the hallway outside the classroom where you will not disturb other students. Laptops are permitted in class but can only be used to run the textbook chapter outlines and/or take notes while the lectures are in progress unless otherwise instructed.
