The nature and scope of international business; economic, political and cultural environments; national and international constraint and agreements; problems of general management associated with planning, financing, marketing, human resources, cultural problems, technology, and legal requirements with particular emphasis on the potentiality of direct investment in foreign lands. There will be at least one assignment which makes use of the Internet.

Course Objectives

This course is about challenges and opportunities that companies meet when going international. In our study we will attempt to break artificial barriers that divide trade theory, international finance and political economy in order to gain a better understanding of the highly interconnected modern world.

Upon completion of the course students will be able to:

- 1) Define key ideas and concepts in the field of international business

- 2) Identify various types of political, legal and economic systems as well as corresponding threats and opportunities for business and investment.
- 3) Analyze cultural variables and their effect on business activities.
- 4) Discuss and compare rationales and limitations of international financial and monetary systems as well as governmental trade policies.
- 5) Critically analyze risks and benefits of international business as related to global investment and marketing strategies.

Procedures and methodology

Lecture method is combined with in-class discussions, case studies and home assignments of various kinds. Core concepts identified from the textbook will be augmented with supplementary sources (made available to students on the class website) and applied to the real life situations during class activities.

Class Rules

This list of rules is the product of experience (rather than arbitrary ideas of “how classes should be run”) and is designed to keep the course effective and convenient for everyone. Therefore the rules that are outlined here will be followed with no exceptions (in order to preserve fairness all exceptions would have to be offered to everyone, and this is neither feasible nor possible).

1. Class attendance is required. Attendance will be taken each class at a time chosen by the instructor.
2. Students are required to arrive to class on time. Showing up late disturbs the natural flow of the lecture and affects everyone’s experience. Usually, up to 10 minutes of “grace period” is allowed. However, if students choose to show up 10 minutes into class on a regular basis, this rule will be reviewed and no one will be allowed after the start of the class.
3. Note, that the only email that students are allowed to use is the one provided by the Lincoln University. Once you receive an invitation to the course website, make sure to set up your profile in such a way that it would be possible for the instructor to identify you - use your name (as it is in the Lincoln University records) as your primary ID and your Lincoln University email as you secondary ID as well as a profile photo.
4. Submissions of home assignments will be conducted via the course website only (Canvas Instructure). Absolutely no hard copy or email submissions will be accepted! The acceptable format for assignment submission is .txt, .doc, .docx, and .pdf.
5. All quizzes, exams, assignments and projects must be completed and handed in on time. Late submissions will result in lower grade (each day of delay costs 2% points). Since all assignments are available on the website and outlined in the present syllabus with due dates clearly visible, the fact that you haven’t been in class when the assignment was given cannot be used as an excuse to submit it later.
6. All quizzes, exams, and class assignments cannot be made up.
7. No cheating and no plagiarism, please! Detected cheating/plagiarism will result in “F” for the assignment. (This rule is very strictly enforced, no exceptions!).

8. All grades will be made available to students through the course website.

Course Project

Every student must complete a research project for an in-class presentation. Research projects must comply with the Lincoln University guidelines.
